Robin Randolph – VICE PRESIDENT

Robin Randolph is a management consultant with more than 25 years of business experience. She has an extensive background in planning and managing cross-functional business operations and technology projects. She is an analytical and a conceptual thinker who effectively partners with senior managers to assess opportunities, facilitate strategic decisions, and drive successful implementations.

Robin's ability to assess complex situations and identify appropriate solutions underscores her ability to gain meaningful insight and follow up with thorough analysis. She is particularly skilled at group facilitation and enjoys forging consensus among people with diverging ideas and opinions.

Robin has managed a broad array of projects in industries ranging from financial services and health care, to education and philanthropy. Projects include:

- Operational audits
- Project management office design and implementation for large, cross-functional projects
- Business process and technical remediation for compliance efforts
- Post-mergers and acquisitions business restructuring and systems integration
- System replacement and upgrades
- Organizational planning
- Facilitating executive retreats

Robin has co-managed Brice Consulting, Inc. since 2004, along with founder Robert Brice. Prior to joining Brice in 1987, she worked as a systems consultant and adjunct professor at the University of California, Berkeley.

She holds an MBA degree from the University of California, Berkeley – Haas School of Business and served as an adjunct professor at Claremont College between 1988 and 1993.
